

RISK PROFILE: GROWTH (MEDIUM TO HIGH RISK)

DATE: 31 MARCH 2025

PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVE

This model comprises solely passive investment vehicles (such as unit trusts and exchange traded funds) that simply track a market and aim to deliver returns reflective of how that market is performing. Asset classes you could find in this portfolio are government bonds, corporate bonds, alternatives and cash. Property and exchange traded commodities may all feature within the alternatives classification.

The portfolio seeks to generate higher capital growth over the medium to long term (5 – 7 years or more) by employing a dynamic investment strategy. Portfolios will typically comprise 70% equity and 30% non-equity, though weightings may deviate within set parameters, allowing managers to react to market conditions.

STRATEGIC V CURRENT ASSET ALLOCATION

TOP 10 ASSET ALLOCATION

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

The Enhanced Passive portfolios have been repositioned to reduce increasing concentration risks within US equities and potential downside risks from lofty stock valuations. As part of this trade the team took profits by selling market-cap weighted S&P 500 index exposure and reallocating into an S&P 500 equal-weight strategy to mitigate concentration from large-cap stocks. To further diversify the portfolio, exposure to global equities has been increased to capitalise on easing monetary policies in key developed markets and supportive fiscal measures, particularly in Europe, which have contributed to improving sentiment. Simultaneously, broad exposure to global emerging market equities has been trimmed, as China sits in the crosshairs for US tariffs which remains a key risk for the region, despite an improving business environment and economic conditions

QUARTERLY REVIEW

Q1 2025 was defined by a sharp uptick in market volatility, driven by geopolitical uncertainty, shifting trade rhetoric from the new US administration, and divergent regional performances. Despite the US market remaining under pressure, there were multiple areas of the global market which performed well such as the UK, Europe, Emerging markets and gold rallying strongly. All of these areas of positivity helped to deliver clients some positive results against a wider and more negative market driven lower by US stocks. For investors, the quarter underscored the importance of global diversification, active management, and vigilance amidst fast-moving macro conditions which the TAM active portfolios were well equipped to deal with.

QUARTERLY OUTLOOK

As we move into the second and third quarters of 2025, markets remain in a volatile state which will continue to be defined by heightened market volatility, shifting geopolitical dynamics and armed conflict, and evolving macroeconomic narratives around trade tariffs coming out of the White House. Not to mention the developing narrative of a US recession. While Q1 delivered a sharp selloff in U.S. equities and a rotation into international markets, the rest of 2025 presents both challenges and opportunities for investors like TAM. We maintain there are some fantastic areas to be invested in in 2025 and some great opportunities to buy high quality investment at unusual discounts. Undoubtedly, active management and timing of these investments will remain key in delivering clients a profitable 2025.
