

PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVE

This model comprises Sharia-compliant investment vehicles including unit trusts, mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs), whose managers aim to outperform their respective markets. Asset classes you could find in this portfolio are Sharia equities, Sukuk bonds, Sharia approved commodities and cash.

The portfolio seeks to generate higher capital growth over the medium to long term (5 – 7 years or more) by employing a dynamic investment strategy. Portfolios will typically comprise 70% equity and 30% non-equity, though weightings may deviate within set parameters, allowing managers to react to market conditions.

PORTFOLIO ACTIVITY

The TAM Sharia portfolios had their emerging market equity exposure downsized due to increased geopolitical risks via anticipated tensions between US-China relations, and a slower rate cutting cycle leaving a stronger dollar as a headwind. A change was also made to expand the portfolios' exposure to sectors outside of tech via the Schroder's Islamic Global Equity Fund. Despite positive AI tailwinds and resilience in mega-cap tech stocks, we anticipate the rally in equities to broaden out given lower valuations, particularly in industrial sectors and smaller-cap names. Furthermore, Europe struggled in Q4 as major stocks such as ASML and Novo Nordisk disappointed investors following downbeat management guidance and a weaker Chinese economy that continues to lower demand for European imports. The reduction in European equities was made via the Comgest Shariah Growth Europe Fund. Finally, a slight decrease in Sukuk exposure took place in the portfolio in order to create an overweight position in equities.

QUARTERLY REVIEW

Q4 of 2024 was another positive quarter for markets, all be it with an increased level of volatility. US markets once again led the way with a gain of 9.61%. Gold was also up 5.97% and global bonds delivered 1.64%. European and UK stocks were down -2.34% and -0.18% respectively over the quarter. To that end, Q4 is another story of US exceptionalism in which American stocks continued to be the engine of portfolio returns. Europe's political woes and fears around Trump's trade tariffs saw investors exiting European markets in the final three months of 2024. The UK fared slightly better, with investors believing that the UK is slightly less impacted by US tariffs to which the US exports more to the UK than it imports. Gold continued to shine in the final quarter as investors and central banks purchased the metal as a safe haven to a possible recession, a diversifier from the dollar and inflation.

QUARTERLY OUTLOOK

The mood in markets right now is unashamedly bullish and this positivity is, seemingly, being carried forward into 2025. Clients should, through the TAM lens, expect the potential for an up market in 2025 led by the US with other regions such as Europe, UK and emerging markets also posting gains but likely behind that of the US for the first half at least. However, clients need to be pragmatic about the risks in assuming the same level of performance from 2025. We see economic growth continuing for 2025 and underpinning positive global sentiment alongside inflation coming back to its 2% target, which we see as a prerequisite for keeping the rally going in 2025. We see bonds remaining strong on the corporate side and challenged on the government side, but with good potential for a surge in performance should the global economy hit a recession.
